

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

Dan APĂTEANU is an assistant professor at the Faculty of Political Science and Communication Science, University of Oradea. E-mail: danapateanu@yahoo.com

Catherine BOYD currently works as a lawyer at Forsters LLP in London and has a first class MA in History from the University of St Andrews, Scotland. The author converted to law at BPP Professional Education in London, where she awarded a commendation on the Graduate Diploma in Law and a distinction on the Legal Practise Course. She is about to undertake and MSc in Public Policy at University College London.

Alina BRIHAN is an assistant professor at the Faculty of Political Science and Communication Science, University of Oradea. E-mail: alina_brihan@yahoo.com

Robert CARLEY is a graduate lecturer in the department of sociology at Texas A&M University. His research areas are political sociology, cultural sociology, gender, and theory. His primary research interests are on social movements, ideology, and interstate-relations in Latin America. Robert has co-edited Co-opting Culture: Culture and Power in Sociology and Cultural Studies (Rowman and Littlefield 2009) and has published book chapters and peer review journal articles.

Gabriela GOUDENHOFT is lecturer at the Faculty of Political Science and Communication Science, University of Oradea. Email: gabrielagaudenhooft@yahoo.com

Simon McMAHON is currently undertaking research at King's College on migration and identity politics in the EU, focusing specifically on the case of Romanian nationals in Spain and Italy. He is particularly interested in the way that identity group boundaries and insider-outsider distinctions are made in different institutional, political and social contexts. Email: simon.mcmahon@kcl.ac.uk

Hilario MOLINA II is a graduate lecturer in the department of sociology at Texas A&M University. His research areas are immigration, race and ethnicity, qualitative and quantities methods, and social demography. Hilario's primary research interests focus on "coyotes" (immigrant smuggling rings between South America and the U.S.) Mexican migration to the U.S., and Latino culture in the Southwestern U.S. Hilario has published in Sociological Inquiry and has work pending at other peer-reviewed sociology journals. E-mail: hmolina_2@yahoo.com

Thaís García PEREIRO is PhD Candidate in Demography Autonomous University of Barcelona- Spain and holds a FPU Fellowship of the Spanish Ministry of Education attached to the Demographic Studies Center (Centre d'Estudis Demogràfics CED) Barcelona, Spain. E-mail: tgarcia@ced.uab.es

Lia POP is university professor and Dean of the Faculty of Political Sciences and Communication, University of Oradea. She is the Director of the Editorial Board of the Journal of Identity and Migration Studies (JIMS) and the founder of the Research Center for Identity and Migration Issues (RCIMI). Email: popliamaria@uoradea.ro

Vasileios K. SIOKORELIS holds Ph.D. from Panteion University, Greece with the thesis "Effects on the Greek Economy by the Accession of Bulgaria and Romania in EU". Currently, is affiliated with the Department of Economic and Regional Development at the Panteion University in Athens. E-mail: vsiok@yahoo.gr

Marius I. TĂȚAR is an Assistant Professor in Political Science at the University of Oradea, Faculty of Political Science and Communication. His main research areas include political participation and democratization. Contact: Str. Traian Blajovici nr. 2 Oradea, 410238, Romania, Tel./Fax: +40 259 455 525, E-mail: mtatar@uoradea.ro; www.e-migration.ro