

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

Anya AHMED is a Senior Lecturer at the University of Salford. This paper is based on her doctoral thesis entitled 'Home and Away: British Women's Narratives of Community in Spain'. Her research interests include belonging, place, networks and ethnicity, migration, transnationalism, identity, citizenship, welfare, social exclusion and structural narrative analysis. Contact: a.ahmed@salford.ac.uk.

Viviana ANDREESCU, PhD, is an assistant professor in the Department of Justice Administration at the University of Louisville, USA. Her recent research focused on violent crimes and cross-national comparisons of victimization, fear of crime, perceptions of immigrants, attitudes toward the police, and police integrity.

Stefaniya BEKYAROVA, received her PhD Diploma in 2009 from the Medical University – Varna, Bulgaria. She also holds Master degree in Public Health (2007) and a Bachelor degree in Healthcare Management (2001) from the same university. Contact: stefaniya.b@gmail.com.

Dr. Geetha GARIB is assistant professor in management and organisation at Tilburg University, The Netherlands. She worked for several years as a Financial modeler and business consultant at the Rabobank group in the area of Philadelphia (USA). She received her PhD degree in Social and Political Sciences at the European University Institute in Florence (Italy) while working together with Jaap Dronkers, her main supervisor. She received three separate master degrees in Management, Social Psychology and English. Contact: y.r.garib@uvt.nl.

Łukasz KRZYŻOWSKI holds an MA in sociology from the Faculty of Humanities, AGH University of Science and Technology in Krakow, Poland. He works there as teaching and research assistant. His main interests are ethnicity, transnational migration, qualitative research, and intergenerational relations. Contact: lukasz.krzyzowski@agh.edu.pl.

Marius I. TĂTAR, PhD, is an Assistant Professor in Political Science at the University of Oradea, Department of Political Science and Communication. His main research areas include political participation and democratization. Contact: Str. Traian Blajovici nr. 2 Oradea, 410238, Romania, Tel./Fax: +40 259 455 525, E-mail: mtatar@uoradea.ro; www.e-migration.ro